Phonics:

This weeks sound(s): oy

This is the last set 2 sound, so it would be a huge advantage to practise all the set 2 sounds!

oy
toy for a boy

oy: toy for a boy

Practise saying the rhyme, writing the sounds in different words you can think of- but be careful, it is a sound that can be written in multiple ways!

Extension: Can you put those words into a sentence and write it?

Can you find this sound around the house, in your reading book or a book in your home?

Spellings: Can you put these into sentences as you practise?

Hold a sentence: The boy was loud.   I like to annoy my mum.

*Hold a sentence: *Adult says the sentence, children have to remember and write it, remembering their finger spaces, capital letters, full stops and correct phonics spellings.

We will be consolidating and reassessing this week in class to see where all the children are at before we move onto diving into addition and subtraction.

If you go back through the previous self-isolation articles, you will find a wide range of sheets and work to complete- pick and chose for the topics you don't feel as confident with.

Remember, youtube, BBC BITESIZE and other online tools are available to aid you with this!

Writing:

We will be filling in wanted posters and character profiles this week with our new pirate topic!

Hook: BOBBY BEAR HAS GONE MISSING! A pirate has been seen to steal Bobby Bear on the outdoor area CCTV and so we need to put up wanted posters to find him/her!

Can you create your own wanted poster? Think of key words to describe your wanted pirate and then write about why you think a pirate would steal Bobby bear…

(Find wanted poster template on article.)
