

More than five hundred people from nearly forty countries have travelled out to space in a rocket, but only twelve people have ever walked on the Moon. They did this as part of America's Apollo programme, which launched seven manned missions to the Moon in the 1960s and 1970s. Six of the crews made it there and back, but the rescue of the seventh is a remarkable story of heroism, teamwork and incredible ingenuity.

'Houston, we've had a problem' (Outer Space, 1970)

APOLLO 13

